I spoke with my colleague on Tuesday about our experience of using the packet. Unfortunately, because we have had several Symposia developed by the Southern California Partners for Global Justice with a focus on human trafficking, we have not used the packet directly in our work. Also, we focus on several aspects of trafficking, which include domestic and agricultural trafficking, as well as sex trafficking, which is the focus of Eugenia's efforts.

At the international JPIC meeting in Rome in June, the Mozambique animator was asked to see if the region could work on a Portuguese version of the packet for use in the Portuguese-speaking areas of the Institute. My contribution was to review the CD of Eugenia's presentation and prepare a transcript of her reflections. I do not know the current progress on this project.

At the same time, my colleague and I will continue to look for opportunities to share this resource, which has been so thoughtfully prepared.
